

Permission to reprint articles
*Anglican and Episcopal History

Fair Use: A limited number of words (ca. 250-500) may be quoted from an article for scholarly or educational use without requesting permission. In all cases the use must be non-commercial. Similarly, individual articles may be photocopied for educational purposes if the distribution is non-commercial (schools, churches, nonprofits, etc.)

Content Use: Authors interested in republishing content from Anglican and Episcopal History may request permission by providing the following information:

Name of Author:
Title of Work:
Title of Publication:
Expected Publication Date:

Please use the following citation:

“Reprinted with permission from Anglican and Episcopal History, Historical Society of the Episcopal Church, VOLUME, DATE OF ISSUE, PAGE NUMBERS (as published in AEH).”

It is our understanding that you make no substantive changes in the content, and that the work will be published once. Further use of the material requires additional permission.

Unless you specify that you are also requesting electronic rights, all requests are for print rights only. Images may not be published separate from the original work without permission of the copyright holder of the image.

Your request will be considered as promptly as possible. If you have any questions, contact Sheryl A. Kujawa-Holbrook, editor-in-chief, aheditor@gmail.com.